Kelsey Landreaux

my story

I was born in Lakenheath, England but was raised in Ann Arbor from the age of two. I currently work for a private practice doctor's office in Ann Arbor as a medical assistant and receptionist.

I attended Washtenaw Community College for a short period of time, but became ill and was later diagnosed with an autoimmune disease called Crohn's disease. Despite the ups and downs from my medical condition I got back in school and graduated with an Associate's Degree in Human Services. I went on to further my education and attended Eastern Michigan University where I graduated with honors with a Bachelor's Degree in Social Work despite struggling with dyslexia. I was the first person in my family to receive her Bachelor's Degree. I plan to return to school to receive my Master's Degree as a physician assistant.

I am extremely ready and excited to start the next chapter of my life.

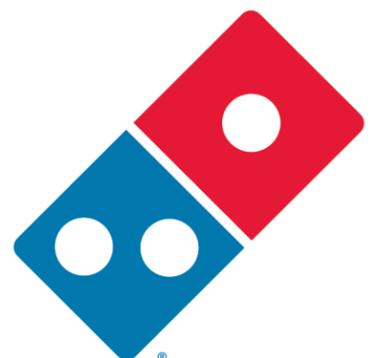

I discovered Habitat for Humanity of Huron Valley when I went to the Home Buyers education class and learned more about the Habitat program. After talking to my mother (who is also in the program) I decided to apply.

Habitat has given me so much wonderful information about buying a home before and after. So far I have enjoyed working with different organizations and people within the community as well as demo houses and painting.

What I am looking forward to the most about my new home is peace and quiet. If I could describe Habitat in one word it would be Independence.
